

Purchase your copy
today for only $39.00

Learn from those whose training and experiences include the ability to speak with understanding and clarity the languages of color, faith, and the criminal justice system.

TO SERVE THIS PRESENT AGE:
REENTERING
THROUGH FAITH

A Basic Guide to Volunteerism and Mentorship of Adult Offenders National Religious Affairs Association

Table of Contents

We are pleased to provide you with a training workbook which includes, but is not exclusive to, the following chapter headings and subject matter:

1. Rallying the Armies of Faith, Justice and Compassion .....
  - The growing need for faith and community based involvement in criminal justice intervention
  - Complex barriers between grassroot and professional providers of reentry and mentoring training
  - Opinions of the faith community regarding service to offenders and their families
  - Motivation for this specialized and user-friendly training approach
  - Basic need and value of culturally competent training which is more realistic to the demographics of incarceration
  - Common reasons why religious institutions, particularly in communities of color, may stagnate in their outreach in this arena
2. Criteria for Volunteering .....
  - Foundation for volunteering
  - Basic hourly value of volunteering
  - Three criteria for volunteering
  - Qualities and why they are needed to work with this specialized population
  - Value and usage of in-kind contributions
3. Mentoring: What Am I To Do? .....
  - Fundamentals of being a mentor
  - Differences and complexities in mentoring offenders and ex-offenders as opposed to other populations
  - Specialized requirements of persons who choose to mentor ex-offenders
  - Attributes that are required in a sound mentor/mentee relationship
  - Some of the dynamics of race to race or cross cultural mentoring
  - Issues unique to offenders of color
4. The Top 10 Tools for Effective Listening .....
  - Technical elements of communication (training provides opportunities to apply techniques)
  - Better understanding of the elements of communication
  - Understand and experience the value of listening and the sensitivities of concerns with which mentors might encounter in offender relationships
  - Ability to provide support to mentees by engaging in more effective communication techniques

5. Facilitating Assistance in Transition and Healing .....
  - Definitions and implications of each of the words indicated in the course title and how these terms impact mentoring of ex-offenders
  - Vivid and unique understanding of the disappointments and challenges associated with release and reintegration
  - How some of the affects of prolonged confinement can jeopardize readjustment into society and family units
  - Some of the occupations which are forbidden to ex-offenders
  - What makes reentry different for black offenders?
  - "Red flags"
  - Understanding and recognizing manipulation and trust issues
6. Technically Speaking .....
  - Definitions and general applications of probation and parole
  - Some of the more common conditions of probation and parole
  - Statistical data which supports the number of persons nationwide on probation and parole
  - Some of the most common technical violations to community supervision
7. To Be Or Not To Be .....
  - Possible issues faced by family when member is arrested
  - Possible issues faced by family when member is convicted
  - Possible issues faced by family when member is incarcerated
  - Attitudes and escapes developed by family
  - Mentor attitudes and reaction
8. Background and Security Investigations: Is This Really Necessary? .....
  - Methods to secure background investigations
  - Security issues necessary in handling confidential information
  - Laws which govern the use of background information
  - Limitations of employers in the use of information towards hiring

This workbook is used in conjunction with specialized training conducted by our experienced consultants. On-site training includes vivid examples of the instructional materials and information and media presentations which provide real-life examples of issues applicable to reentry. Call us today!